Miss Bernice Angell and Raymond Wheeler Married Thursday.

A pretty home wedding took place on Thursday afternoon at the home of W. H. Angell, when, following the strains of a wedding march, played by Miss Alice McLam, his daughter, Miss Bernice V. Angell, and Raymond Wheeler of Calais were united in marriage by Rev. M. W. Hale, the double ring service being used. The couple were attended by Guy Angell, a brother of the bride, and Miss Emily Robinson. The bride wore white voile and carried lilies. The house was tastafully decorated with Stanley C. Wilson, chairman of friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride and groom left immediately happiness and prosperity.

Among the guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Simon Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Wheeler and Mr. Robinson of Calais, Joel Wheeler and family of Barre, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wheeler of Cabot and B. W. Wheeler and family surrounding towns. Judge Wilson then

HARDWICK

Fine weather ushered in the opening day of the Redpath chautauqua in Hardwick last Saturday, and a crowd of over 700 people attended the afternoon performance and over 1,000 attended in the evening. In the afternoon as a prelude to the lecture the Williams Jubilee Singers, eight colored people, gave an inkling of what was to be expected of lecturer of the afternoon and took for his subject, "The Joy Maker," and he lived up to his cognonmen in fine shape. Sunday afternoon the chautauqua people turned the tent over to the local committee for its use, and this committee secured as a speaker for the afternoon, Rev. Ernest Wismer of Bristol, Conn., who is camping at Caspian lake. and he certainly gave the audience of over 500 people some food for thought in dealing with the existing conditions of to-day. Mr. Wismer is a fearless speaker and the meeting being a sort of welcome home to ex-service boys, and Mr. 0 Wismer having been with the boys in 0 France in Y. M. C.
